Power of the Pen

A simple pen
or a deadly weapon.
The words it writes hurt like daggers to someone.

The green body tipped with gold and black,
with the ability to create marvellous adventures.
An alien landscape or a medieval castle.
A brave knight or a adventurous explorer

A soft flowing movement across the page, the black ink marking the page
A gentle grip between the fingers
After a few strokes another story is complete.

The gift from across the seas,
the memories it contains.
